T. N. CHRISTIE, agent for Lafferty & Smith private bankers of Calgary and Regina, arrived by Monday's stage to open a branch establishment here. He will commence business as soon as a building can be secured and the necessary safes arrive.

M. McKINNON has sold his interest in the large flock of sheep which he brought in this fall to the other partners in the speculation, Messrs. Carey & McPherson, who will probably winter them at the Black Mud. About 400 have been sold to settlers here.

ICE began to run thick in the river on Sunday last, and continued until Wednesday, except at intervals of a few hours each, when it stuck opposite town. The river remained open opposite the Fort during Thursday and Friday, and people crossed in a skiff.

APPLICATION will be made at the next session of parliament for charters to run railroads from a point on the Galt line between Dunmore and Lethbridge to the U. S. boundary line, and from Lethbridge westward through the Rockies to the U. S. boundary in British Columbia.

THE storm of Wednesday night of last week caused considerable damage at St. Albert. W. Cus's stable roof was blown down, Chas. Gauthier's house was raised from the ground, but luckily descended in its proper place. E. Page, H. Paradis, N. Beauday and several others suffered a good deal of shaking but little damage.

LETTERS patent have been issued to the Canadian Anthracite Coal Company, formed to work the Cascade Mountain mines. The directors include John Stewart of MacLeod, McLeod and Archibald Stewart of Ottawa and a number of prominent St. Paul, Minneapolis and Eau Claire capitalists.

THE storm of Wednesday night of last week assumed the proportions of a cyclone in some places. On the Landing road trees were felled to such an extent that the trail was almost impassible. Along the telegraph line to Leduc many trees were blown down and also many of the telegraph poles. That part of the line was repaired by Saturday night by M. McKinley.

CHURCH of England services will be held by Rev. Canon Newton in the Edmonton school house at seven o'clock every Sabbath evening until Christmas. The subjects are: Nov. 14th, "Signs of the Times;" Nov. 21st, "Religion and the Beautiful;" Nov. 28th, "Religion and Science;" Dec. 5th, "The Religion of the Church of England to other Denominations;" Dec. 12th, "Pagan Faiths and the Christian Religion;" Dec. 19th, "Christianity."

A BRITISH gunboat has been despatched from Victoria, B. C., to Metlakatlah on the north-west coast, on account of the Indians there, converted to Christianity and civilization by a missionary named Duncan, showing strong opposition to the exercise of ecclesiastical and temporal authority over them by Bishop Ridley of the Church of England, who desires to displace Duncan. The feud between the Indians and the Bishop is of long standing. The effect of the gunboat's arguments on the theology of the Indians will doubtless be conclusive. This seems to be a case for the Mail to deal with.

THE annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Edmonton school district took place on Saturday afternoon of last week. The attendance was small. The reports for the year were read by the secretary and accepted without dissent. A vote of thanks to the trustees for their services was passed, and also to J. C. Cameron for six large maps presented by him to the school. A motion was also passed advising the trustees not to allow the use of the school house as a court room in future as the closing of school during court was the cause of considerable loss on the capitation grant from government, and the amount paid the teacher for the days the school was closed was nearly as much as the amount received as rent.

LOUIS BEAUCHEMIN, well known here and at St. Albert, has been giving the eastern papers wonderful accounts of the perils he underwent in the service of the government during the rebellion, and is putting forth a claim for additional compensation. The services rendered by Mr. Beauchemin were that he assisted in rowing Gen. Strange's scows downstream to Pitt for which he received the modest compensation of $5 a day—not bad considering that he is a cripple in one arm. Of course he does not stand any alarming chance of getting additional compensation, but such cases and claims as his are what go far to excite the claims commission in looking with suspicion on all claims.

THE municipal elections in Calgary on Wednesday November 3rd resulted in the election of G. C. King, merchant, as mayor by a majority of 23. Councillors: Jas. Martin of Martin Bros., John Ellis, merchant, A. Allen of Rankin & Allen and A. E. Shelton, furniture dealer. About 500 votes were polled in the election, but it was very quiet. The two ex-mayors, Murdoch and Reilly took no active part.

THE first annual shooting match of the Edmonton rifle association commenced on Monday morning last and was continued until Thursday afternoon. The weather on Monday was rather unfavorable—cloudy and windy—but the remaining three days were perfect. The match was opened by Mrs. Hardisty firing the first shot. Several ladies were present. The shooting was at the ranges on Ross' Flat. The matches were delayed so late in the season on account of waiting for the militia department to furnish Snider ammunition. No order for ammunition was received, and it was only procured through the personal intervention of the 1st vice-patron Mr. Hardisty. The prizes were numerous and valuable, the competition keen and the interest great and well sustained. The affair passed off smoothly and pleasantly and with satisfaction to all concerned—especially the prize winners.

THE EDMONTON BULLETIN is published every Saturday morning, at the office, Main street, Edmonton. Subscription—Two Dollars per annum. Advertising rates—Standing advertisements, two dollars a line per annum; transient advertisements, ten cents a line for first insertion and five cents a line for each subsequent insertion. FRANK OLIVER, proprietor.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, NOV. 13, 1886.

In his report to the board of education Rev. Pere Lestanc, inspector of Roman Catholic schools in the Edmonton district, says: "There are small centres of half-breeds where it is impossible to erect school districts. These people are too poor in every respect to build school houses and pay the salary of a teacher. What could the board do to meet the case?" The rev. gentleman might have added that there are and always will be until the country is filled up communities of white settlers similarly circumstanced. What has been done by the present school ordinance and board of education to meet such cases is this: The provisions of the ordinance as to aid to schools are so framed that the poorer the school district the less the proportion of government assistance it receives; while the board of education, instead of using the surplus educational funds in assisting the poorer districts have used them in providing expensive furniture and school material free of cost to school districts many of which were as well able as the board itself to pay for what they require. The proposal of the board that a high school be established at Regina still further carries out the idea that the strong should be assisted at the expense of the weak rather than the weak at the expense of the strong. It is generally admitted in these days of popular government that the interests and safety of the state require that the people shall be educated. To diffuse the primary branches of education universally should be the first object of a public school system; to teach the higher but less necessary branches to the favored few is only of secondary importance.

ELECTION matters are about as they were a week ago. The papers of last mail had no definite information regarding an election, and the telegraph wire being down we are in the dark as to what may have occurred since they were issued. Reports were current last week that the writs for a general election would be out about the 16th inst., which would bring on the elections here not earlier than Christmas, but the rumor is not confirmed. Requests were received here from parties in Calgary by last mail asking that a branch conservative association be formed with a view to the elections, but no steps have as yet been taken in that direction. Requisitions are being circulated in favor of R. Hardisty, and are being numerously signed. Whoever the member may be he will have his hands full. Besides the weighty public matters upon which he will have to pass judgment there are a host of private matters all ready and waiting to claim his earnest attention. These are chiefly claims against the government, such as those for rebellion losses, repudiated or reduced rebellion accounts, volunteer scrip, additional half-breed scrip, and a thousand and one other matters of more or less importance, but involving in the aggregate the loss or gain of many thousands of dollars in hard cash to this part of the district.

A COMMITTEE of the North West Council has been appointed to amend the exemptions ordinance of last session. This is a wise move. While a liberal exemption ordinance is good and necessary, that of last session in at least one clause passed the bounds of liberality and entered those of swindling, and some of the other clauses would be none the worse of pruning. While the council is amending it is to be hoped that it will not forget the medical ordinance of last session. One provision of that ordinance—respecting midwifery—bears with especial and unnecessary severity on the scattered population of the North-West and should be struck out. Another matter in need of amendment in the same ordinance is that while the licensed practitioner receives every protection that a stringent law can afford against competition by unlicensed parties, the provisions for the protection of the public against malpractice or misconduct by those licensed practitioners, necessary to equalize matters, are conspicuously not there.

It seems that some North-West school districts have a difficulty in disposing of their debentures, buyers requiring a guarantee of security greater than the word of a six by four school district. In the school bill submitted to the council of '83 provision was made to meet this difficulty. Debentures could not be issued without the consent of the lieutenant-governor or lieutenant-governor-in-council, but when their issue was so authorized the government of the North-West became responsible for their payment, with power to reimburse itself from the property comprised in the district. The principle is similar to that of the Manitoba railway aid act. It would have given the holders of debentures absolute security, and consequently school districts would have been able to borrow at lower rates and with less difficulty than now, when the security is less ample.

THE Regina Leader states that Rufus Stephenson, inspector of colonization societies, during his recent visit here selected the land to be handed over to the Edmonton & Saskatchewan Land Company in accordance with an order-in-council of last summer. Upon the exertions of the member of parliament soon to be elected for Alberta will depend whether the land so selected will become absolutely the property of the colonization company or not. Let the people see that their interests do not suffer in this matter. The company can be trusted to look out for itself.

NORTH-WEST COUNCIL.

MONDAY, Oct. 25, 1886.

The report of the board of education from the close of last session of the Council to October 1st was laid on the table. It recommends the establishment of a high school for the Territories and a training school for teachers. There are in the Territories 76 Protestant public, 12 Catholic and 2 Catholic separate school districts in all 90, an increase of 31 over last year, and petitions for the erection of 5 additional districts are now in hand. The total school attendance is about 8,000. Twenty-five districts have been authorized to borrow money on debentures.

Ross asked that the financial statement be brought down.

Correspondence from Osler, Hammond & Nanton, Winnipeg, was laid on the table. The firm hold a large number of school debentures and find some difficulty in disposing of them. They recommended the passage of an ordinance compelling the action of school trustees in issuing debentures to be approved by some officer of the educational board. Referred to the school committee.

Adjournment until Wednesday.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 27, 1886.

MacLeod reported from civil justice committee that legislation sought for legalizing bonus by-laws of Regina and Qu'Appelle municipalities be brought forward as private bills. Also amendments to Reed's bill respecting illegitimate children. He moved an adjournment as the administration of justice bill was not yet ready from the printer. Wilson was added to school and finance committees and Irvine to those on miscellaneous subjects and gophers.

THURSDAY, Oct. 28, 1886.

Ross presented the report of the finance committee recommending advances to agricultural societies through their representatives as follows: R. Crawford $125, W. D. Perley $125, S. Bedford $20, J. G. Turriff $150, C. Marshall $210, Dr. Lauder $400, Lord Boyle $400, S. Cunningham $150, Dr. Wilson $150, O. E. Hughes $400.

Saskatoon agricultural society applied for aid. Referred to finance committee.

Perley-Jelly moved as a committee to amend the exemptions ordinance. Second, Ross, Hughes, Bedford, Turriff and the mover and seconder.

Second and Crawford introduced bills to legalize bonus by-laws of the municipalities of Regina and Qu'Appelle.

Turriff drew attention to the loose way in which these municipalities transacted their business, making these bills necessary.

Reed said that many difficulties had arisen in connection with his bill for the support of illegitimate children and asked that it be allowed to stand.

Council in committee on the civil justice bill. MacLeod objected that the bill was not properly printed and that they were only losing time in going on with it in its present shape. Committee rose, reported progress and urged that the printing be expedited.

FRIDAY, Oct. 29, 1886.

Turriff presented a petition from White-wood south asking separation from the municipality.

Richardson reported from committee that the present Regina court premises would answer temporarily for the supreme court.

The lieutenant-governor stated that a report from the Ottawa delegates was in preparation for submission to the council.

The lieutenant-governor introduced an ordinance re the holding of property in trust for religious bodies.

A petition was presented from Carrot river re the running at large of bulls. Referred to miscellaneous committee.

Cunningham-Hughes moved a committee of Rouleau, Breland, Ross, Perley, Crawford and the mover and seconder to consider all matters affecting the Metis and report.

The lieutenant-governor stated that as a result of representations from Mr. Hughes and others he had sent agents to Qu'Appelle and St. Laurent half-breeds to make a house to house canvas and report as to the amount of destitution and the relief required.

Second introduced a bill to facilitate the conveyance of real estate by married women. The bills re bonus by-laws of Regina and South Qu'Appelle passed a second reading.

MONDAY, Nov. 1, 1886.

Regina people petitioned for alterations in the game law.

Marshall-Turriff moved that Bedford, Perley and the mover and seconder be a committee to obtain information and report on the losses sustained by prairie fires.

Second introduced a bill to charge the end of the close season for snipe and plover from Aug. 1 to Aug. 15.

Hughes-Second moved a committee of Rouleau, Ross, Jelly and the mover and seconder to prepare a memorial to the federal government to build a bridge across the South Saskatchewan.

Ross-Turriff moved the adoption of the report of the committee re aid to agricultural societies. Carried.

The lieutenant-governor laid on the table a statement of school expenditure for the past year.

Council in committee on administration of justice bill, Richardson in the chair. The chairman said that the delay of the bill was not due to the printer. The blame if any must attach to the committee.

Rouleau said the committee were not to blame. They had done the work as fast as it could be done.

The bill was read up to the 290th clause. The committee then rose and reported progress.

Hughes will move for a memorial to the federal government asking pensions for the Prince Albert volunteer wounded and the relatives of those killed in the late rebellion.
